ALMOST TRAGEDY AT MERCELINA

Man Accused of Peeping Into Women's Quarters Uses Knife on Accuser.

Eva Thomas, an employee of the furniture factory, was arrested Wednesday night on an affidavit of Joe Leugis, a member of the Rendon Comedy Co., playing at the Mercelina Park Theatre, charging assault and battery. Thomas pleaded guilty when arraigned in Mayor Miller's court, and was exceptionally lucky in drawing a fine of but $10. and costs.

Thomas was accused of peeping in the cottage occupied by lady members of the company, and when accused by Leugis, who went after the peepers, is accused of drawing a knife and cutting Leugis a gash across the chin. Luckily for young Thomas the cut was just on the chin bone. Had it been half an inch lower, it would have severed the jugular vein. The injured man was taken to the office of Dr. Hattery, where the wound was dressed. After filing an affidavit of cutting with intent to kill Leugis withdrew it and preferred a charge of assault and battery, accompanying the affidavit with a request of leniency, should Thomas plead guilty.

YOUNG MAN'S REASON SUDDENLY DE-THRONED

Bernard Overman, of Maria Stein, a young man of 26, who for several years worked at the furniture factory and is well known in this city, was adjudged insane by Dr. Stubbs and Hattery in Probate court last Saturday morning. The attack came upon the young man, who was always of a quiet disposition, very rapidly. He was not raving, but imagined he saw a railroad wreck. He was taken to Toledo by Sheriff Fisher, accompanied by the young man's father, John Overman, of Maria Stein.

Jury Failed to Agree

Unable to reach a verdict the jury hearing the case of Jackson Gillespie vs. H. A. Miller, as administrator of the estate of Phoebe Gillespie, deceased, was discharged at noon last Tuesday, after they had been in the box for almost twenty-four hours.

Gillespie sought judgment for $1800, alleging that his mother, the late Phoebe Gillespie, had entered into a contract whereby he was to receive that amount for caring for her.

The matter was reported to the officials Saturday morning, but no arrests have so far been made.

ALFALFA, THE KING OF GRASSES

Alfalfa is winning its way in Ohio. It is a blessing. It returns a profit while building up and fertilizing the soil. It will grow in Ohio. Every county now reports this crop to the Ohio State Board of Agriculture. Experts declare that it will not obstruct tile drains unless there is running water in the under-drains all the time. Joe Wing and Prof. Holden say that Ohio alfalfa seed should be put in the ground, for best results, the last week in July or the first week in August. A good seed bed is necessary. Inoculation helps the cause. Ground that has been growing clover will suffice. Prof. Holden advises that there is some seed sold from the west being offered on the market. Good seed only should be used. Every county should have an alfalfa campaign, as several counties have already arranged. Those interested should write for information. An alfalfa acre contest will be encouraged.

Wednesday the strikers were joined by the men on the sections between Portland and Muncie. Roadmaster J. R. Condon, of Lima, while in this city the first of the week, stated the matter had been brought to the attention of the road's officials, but he did not believe the matter would be settled very soon. Extra men are being sent over the road to keep things in as good a shape as possible until the strike is settled. Foreman Peter Ledwidge and Bert Swallow of the Celina crews, are patrolling their sections during the strike.

ROCKFORD GETS NEW POSTMASTER

Rolla Frysinger Captures First Plum in Old Mercer—Interesting Political Notes.

Rolla Frysinger, of Rockford, who was recently appointed postmaster of the office in that village, is in receipt of official papers announcing his appointment. He will not, however, take charge of the office until next Tuesday, the 1st. The present incumbent, U. G. Coates, has purchased a store at Rockford and will devote his entire time to the business. New appointee is a popular young business man, a son of ex-Commissioner George Frysinger.

The Democratic County Executive Committee will meet, under provisions of a new act by the last Legislature, sometime prior to the fifteenth of August to recommend a qualified person for membership on the board of Deputy State Supervisors of Elections.

The law previously fixed this appointment prior to the first of May, but the last Legislature changed the act to read, fifteen days prior to the first day of August.

Hon. D. C. Kinder, of Rockford, is the retiring Democratic member of the Board, while Chas. Creeden is the hold-over member.

There are already several applicants in the field for Mr. Kinder's seat, most prominent among them are precinct committeemen Henry Lemke, of Hopewell township, and Henry Bennett, of Franklin.

The last legislature passed several bills of much interest to the voters of the state and county, which are not generally known as yet.

One of these makes the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of each year, (Election Day) between 12 o'clock noon and 5:30 p. m., a legal poll holiday.

This act is also accompanied by another which is in part as follows:

Whoever, being an employer, his officer, or agent, discharges an elector because he fails or refuses to labor on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, between the hours of twelve o'clock noon, central standard time, and five-thirty o'clock p. m., central standard time, or requires or orders any elector in his employ to accompany him to a voting place upon such day, or who refuses to permit such elector to serve as an election official on any election day, shall be fined not less than twenty-five dollars.

The time of closing the polls at all elections was changed from 6 o'clock to 5:30 o'clock p. m. Two years ago the old law was changed, and in villages and townships the polls were kept open until 6 o'clock, while in cities they closed at 5:30. The law changes put the polls back in their old form and all polls will open at 5:30 a. m. and close at 5:30 p. m., standard time.

It is necessary under a new act for one of the judges of elections in each precinct immediately after ascertaining the result of the ballot, to announce the result in front of the polling place, and immediately transmit such results to the Deputy State Supervisors of Elections, who in turn are to make an unofficial count and forward to the secretary of state. It is thus hoped to get a very accurate unofficial count on all elections the day after the election. Heretofore it has required a week's time to secure anything like accurate unofficial figures.

Chairman W. L. Finley, of the Democratic State Executive Committee, has addressed a letter to the officers of the County Central and Executive Committee, requesting them to refrain from endorsing candidates for places either on the new County Tax Commission or the Liquor Commission law, before these recent acts of the legislature go into effect. He closes his letter with the following paragraph, which is food for consideration, not only by the committees, but to every Democrat interested in the Democracy of the state. The paragraph reads:

Instead of basing themselves with a fight for patronage, which does not exist, it is the policy thing for Democratic committees to begin to prepare immediately to defend the progressive laws proposed by a progressive Democratic Governor and enacted by a progressive Democratic Legislature, which laws are now the object of attack by the tax and liquor interests, the tax dodgers, the stand patters and broken down politicians out of a job.

WILSON WRITES TO McREYNOLDS

Agrees Prosecution of California Cases Should Be Pushed—Accepts McNab's Resignation.

Believes That Under the Circumstances Special Counsel Ought To Be Employed to Proceed Immediately in the Prosecution of the Indicted Men—Satisfied With Course Taken by Attorney General.

San Francisco, June 26. — Clayton Herrington, federal investigator of white slave cases for the United States department of justice, who gathered the evidence in the Diggs-Caminetti case and who called upon President Wilson to remove Attorney General McReynolds from office for his action in delaying the trials, was suspended from office on an order from Washington.

Washington, June 25. — Attorney General McReynolds has been exonerated from blame by President Wilson, who wrote a letter to Mr. McReynolds, adopting the latter's suggestion that the Caminetti-Diggs and Western Fuel company cases be prosecuted immediately by special counsel for the government. The president also wired United States Attorney John L. McNab of San Francisco, accepting the latter's resignation.

President Wilson's letter to Attorney General McReynolds follows:

"Allow me to acknowledge with sincere appreciation your letter giving me a full account of the way in which the department of justice has dealt with the Diggs-Caminetti and the Western Fuel company cases, pending in California, and transmitting the documents connected with the two cases necessary for their elucidation. I am entirely satisfied that the course you took in both the cases was prompted by sound and impartial judgment and a clear instinct for what was fair and right. I approve your course very heartily and without hesitation, but I agree with you that what we may think of what has been done does not relieve us of the obligation to press the case with the utmost diligence and energy. I approve very heartily of your suggestion that in the circumstance special counsel be employed, the ablest we can obtain. I will be very glad to confer with you about the selection. I hope that you will do this without delay. I am very glad indeed that you are giving your personal attention to the immediate and diligent prosecution of the cases, which I agree with you in regarding as of serious importance from every point of view."

Raps Attorney McNab.

The president's telegram accepting the resignation of District Attorney McNab carries a severe rebuke to the retiring official for the manner in which he tendered his resignation. "I greatly regret that you should have acted so hastily and under so complete a misapprehension of the actual circumstances, but since you have chosen such a course and have given your resignation the form of an inexcusable intimation of injustice and wrongdoing on the part of your superior, I release you without hesitation and accept your resignation to take effect at once."

The president is considering the names of three men for special counsel to prosecute the white slave cases. They are Francis J. Heney, one of the Bull Moose leaders in California; Matt J. Sullivan, a Democrat of San Francisco, and Thomas Hayden of San Francisco, who is also a Democrat. Heney prosecuted Abe Ruef, the convicted boss of San Francisco, on graft charges several years ago.

Sacramento, Cal., June 25.—Martha Warrington and Lola Norris, the two 19-year-old high school girls whose flight with two wealthy young Californians resulted in the resignation of District Attorney McNab, remain in seclusion in their homes. Before their elopement to Reno, Nev., with Maury Diggs and Drew Caminetti, sons of wealthy families, the two girls were much sought for at society functions. With Diggs and Caminetti, the girls were brought back from the Nevada town. Diggs' wife forgave him. A child had been born to his young wife only six weeks before the elopement. Caminetti's wife and children are not with him. Instead, they went to live at his father's home at Jackson, in Amador county.

THE WORLD'S MOST NOTED DETECTIVE

To Lecture at Celina Chautauqua on August 9—Will Be a Big Drawing Card.

As a detective William J. Harris is internationally known as one of the world's greatest, if not the greatest, now living. Our General Manager has heard him and announces him one of the most effective speakers in America. He has a message distinctly worth while, and as he illustrates his points with stories of his experiences, he speaks with the charm and authority that can come only from one who has had some vital experience. In the course of his lecture he gives some inside history of the famous McNamara dynamiting case, the Pacific Coast land fraud cases, the San Francisco graft cases, the Detroit councilman bribery case, the Ohio legislative bribery case, and the Rosenthal murder case. He uses forceful language; he calls a spade a spade, a crook a crook; and in this respect his lecture might be called sensational, though his language is well chosen and chaste. There is much humor in his lecture; in short, it is the kind of a lecture an audience quite naturally wants Mr. Harris to give. He has lectured enough to prove that his ability on the platform is great—almost as great as in detecting crime. He has for a long time been in constant demand as an after-dinner speaker, but only within the last year has he attempted to give a set lecture. His first appearance, in Boston, was a great success from every standpoint. The Boston organization, after paying a large fee for his lecture, and large local expenses for theatre rent and advertising, cleared $1800.00. Last summer he lectured at Watena, Kas., Chautauqua, was pronounced one of the finest speakers that ever appeared on that famous program, and the single admission receipts were about $1,000.00, not counting the season ticket sales, all of which proves that the people want to hear him. He will delight every audience, and thousands who would not ordinarily think of attending a lecture will make sure to hear America's best advertised man, William J. Harris, at Celina Chautauqua, August 9.
